Columbia Community Foundation Awards Columbia Chamber of Commerce Scholarship

The Columbia Community Foundation has awarded The 2012 Columbia Chamber of Commerce Scholarship to recent Columbia High School Graduate Abby Filer.

Abby plans to attend The Ohio State University and study Physical Therapy. The Chamber of Commerce Scholarship will provide $1,500 to help pay for her education.

The Columbia Chamber of Commerce Scholarship is available to any resident of Columbia Township in Lorain County that is a current graduating high school senior aspiring to attend a two-year or four-year college, trade school, technical institute, or other post-secondary education program. The online application process for next year's scholarships opens in January. For additional information, visit the group's website at www.columbiacommunityfoundation.org.

The Columbia Community Foundation, a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit public charity organization, serves the citizens of Columbia Station, Ohio and neighboring communities through implementation of their charitable aspirations by awarding educational scholarships and community grants.

Abby Filer is presented the Columbia Chamber of Commerce Scholarship by Columbia Community Foundation President Ron Krisko.
